PROFILE

Engineering student in Digital Sciences, founder, and — above all — someone who likes bringing people together. I ship products with Claude Code and the Anthropic API in my hands daily, from first prototype to production, and I build the rooms where that gets shared: Le Carré, the network I founded, links student entrepreneurs across nine Toulouse schools; I'm on the founding team of the city's student & entrepreneurship community; and I lead my school's entrepreneurship society. Getting people to build with Claude Code — including people who don't code — is my everyday.
